LUMBER PRICES TAKE ANOTHER JUMP

Rough Lumber Goes Up $2 per Thousand and Finishing Lumber $5.

Lumber prices have taken another jump, the raise this time being on spruce, poplar, tamarac, rough cedar and pine.

Generally speaking, the raise is from $1 to $3 all around, but in one or two cases is $5 a thousand. Finishing lumber, of B. C. pine or spruce, dressed, has been $30 per thousand, is now $35, and fir or tamarac sills 6 x 6, 6 x 12 or 12 x 12, which have stood at $30 since the last raise, now list at $35.

The raise took effect this morning, in the September price list, which has just been issued by the lumbermen. Local dealers say that the raise is the outcome of a similar boost given to prices by the mountain mill men in British Columbia, although this contention is hardly borne out by the fact that a great deal of the advance is on spruce which is milled right in the city.

This makes the fourth jump that lumber has taken since the first of the year, aggregating as much as 50 per cent in some cases.

The following is the price list, showing the advances made today:

ALDERMEN TREAD
ON DANGER

Two Motions Made to Give the C.P.R.
Level Crossings in the West End

To the Bulletin:

Mr. Jamieson of the C.P.R. gave as the reason, why the C.P.R. had not availed themselves of the city's offer of free right of way in 1903, the fact that then the C.P.R. only had a short term lease of the C. and E. and they might have lost control of the road as they did of the Prince Albert branch recently. They did not purchase the C. and E. until nearly two years later, when the steps were immediately taken with reference to the construction of the high level bridge.

At last night's special meeting of the city council the C.P.R. came so near getting coupled onto a level crossing privilege throughout the west end that, figuratively speaking, Superintendent Jamieson had his hand out to drop the link pin and connect up the air. Only the fact that Alderman Picard and Latta on one end and Aldermen Bellamy and Manson on the other misinterpreted each other saved the city from giving away an immensely valuable privilege and tying up Peace and Athabasca streets forever.

Alderman Picard moved and Alderman Latta seconded, that the C.P.R. be given the temporary right to lay its tracks as requested.

The mover and seconder in each case voted against the mover and seconder in the other, presumably on the hypothesis that there was a difference between the two motions. Aldermen Calhoun and Mays, apparently recognizing the effect of either motion, stood pat and voted against both, finally turning the matter over to a committee on which the city solicitor will have a word to say.

When the council met R. R. Jamieson was present by invitation to hear the case discussed. His letter asking the privilege to lay the three tracks which have already been laid across Athabasca and Peace and the two which have been laid across MacKenzie and the request of the privilege to lay three more across Peace and Athabasca was read.

Then the board of trade resolution was read advising the council to take action to force the C.P.R. to cross in the east end instead of the west end. Thereafter the general discussion was taken up. Referring to the board of trade resolution, Mr. Jamieson said that it was so new and the proposals so startling that he was not prepared to say much about it. The location of the crossing was not in his hands, but the company had already acquired land for a right of way in the west end and were already taking soundings. The proposals provided for a radical change. He was not there to make any definite statement as to the company's entrance into the city, but he could say that all the company's arrangements had been made with a view to crossing at Ninth avenue.

Alderman Latta stated that some of the clauses of the board of trade resolution would undoubtedly be considered.

WILL SETTLE THE TROUBLE

By Assuring Indians They Shall Not Want.

(Bulletin Special)

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—The trouble between the Robine River Indians and the fisheries officers on the Pacific Coast will be amicably settled in a day or so. The Indians fear that because they are stopped putting their weirs and dams on the river for the salmon they will not have enough food in the winter season. The Indian officers of the department have been instructed to confer with the Indians and to satisfy them that if they run short of food the government will see that it is supplied them. This no doubt will be satisfactory.

ered quite as startling by the council as by the C.P.R. He failed to see the policy of forcing the railway to move from the west end to the east end crossing, and saving west end property at the deliberate expense of the east end property.

Ald. Picard moved that the C.P.R. be granted the privilege to build tracks across Athabasca, Peace and MacKenzie for their present purposes in so far as the privilege does not conflict with the city's agreement with the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Ald. Latta seconded.

Ald. Mays asked if this was granted would it not amount to the closing of the streets?

Mr. Jamieson replied that the streets could be kept open, but at considerable inconvenience to the railway. The company would like to have the streets closed. The C.P.R., he thought would be a little benefit to the city in the development of its commercial and industrial prosperity. In asking that the streets be closed the company was making a very modest request compared to what had been granted to these companies. The C.P.R. had asked for these streets to be closed and this had been refused, in a letter received from the council. Now they were merely asking the right to build the tracks. They asked the city for nothing more and in consideration of the benefits which the city would reap, the company's request was reasonable. After a whispered consultation with the city solicitor, the mayor said that it had been suggested to him that they could more readily arrive at an agreement through a committee, as they could then talk more freely.

Ald. Mays nominated the mayor, Ald. Picard and the city solicitor.

Alderman Manson said that if clause 7 of the G.T.P. agreement held good there was no room for any other railway in this town, as the city had agreed to help to prevent any other road from building south of McKenzie avenue.

Alderman Bellamy said that the city wanted railways and wanted them very badly. He did not think that any company would care to lay temporary tracks. He moved in amendment that the request made in Mr. Jamieson's letter be granted.

Ald. Latta seconded.

Ald. Picard said they could not sell their farm twice. The city had already given McKenzie avenue to the G.T.P. They could not now give the C.P.R. a crossing.

Ald. Calhoun said he was going to

Board of Trade Send a Sample to the Dominion Fairs

J. B. Holden, M.P.P., of Vegreville is in town.

Harvest in that vicinity is about completed and several new threatening outbreaks have left town preparatory to beginning work. Crops are uniformly good and the yield promises to be satisfactory.

Great preparations are being made for the fair to be held September 27th and 28th. They have under construction the exhibition buildings, grand stand and two steam plows are working on the race track. The track is a half mile, well laid out and will be put in good shape by the fair dates. A large board fence is also being built around the fair grounds which comprises 27 acres. Special rates of fare and one-third have been arranged from all points between Edmonton and North Battleford.

The town is growing very rapidly and the two lumber yards are taxed to import material fast enough.

The board of trade have forwarded some excellent samples to the Halifax fair. These include samples of wheat, oats, barley, rye, flax, timothy, clover alfalfa, and beavine and vetch the latter of which measured eight feet long.

There were also included sweet potatoes, furnished by Hugh Clarke, of Big Fish Lake who has sixty bushels for sale.

Photographs of several of the steam plowing outfits of the district accompanied the exhibit.

A new $10,000 brick school building is under construction.

The Merchants Bank are putting up a solid brick building.

J. F. Fitzgerald of Edmonton is erecting a large frame store on Main street.

Miller Bros. are building a large store.

A flour mill and an elevator are under construction. Another elevator will be begun at once.

oppose the motion on the ground that there could not be six tracks across a street without closing it. The company already kept a string of cars across these streets. They made no effort to keep them open.

The mayor: "They were not asked."

Ald. Calhoun: "They should not require to be asked. They know they should not close the streets."

Ald. Bellamy's amendment was put and defeated; Ald. Manson and Bellamy alone voting for it.

Ald. Picard's motion was then put and it also was defeated.

The council then accepted Ald. Mays' motion for a committee.

RETURNED FROM PEACE RIVER

Located Land in British Columbia to Satisfy Claim of Federal Government

add surveyor macdonald John A. Macdonnell, D.L.S., in the service of the Department of the Interior, who has been in the north for almost two years came into the city yesterday over the Athabasca trail, and is registered with his party at the Alberta hotel.

Mr. Macdonnell was entrusted with a mission of great importance to the city of Edmonton, the province of British Columbia, and the Dominion Government. His work has been no less than the selection of 4,500,000 acres of land in the north-east corner of the province of British Columbia on behalf of the Dominion Government.

All who are familiar with the story of consideration are familiar with the story of this land. At the time that British Columbia came into the Dominion as one of the terms of the agreement, it was provided that the mountain province should vest in the Dominion 10,000,000 acres of its lands, which land the Dominion proposed to apply to the subsidy granted to the C.P.R. This land became known as the "railway belt" in B.C. and for miles and miles along the C.P.R., along by Kamloops, Ashcroft, and the Fraser there is a strip 10 miles wide on each side of the track which was turned over to the Dominion and is still in the hands of the Federal Government.

The railway however, refused to accept this mountain land as part of its subsidy.

At the time this bargain was made there was still coming to the Dominion a matter of 4,500,000 acres which had not yet been selected, and by an arrangement between the coast province and the Federal authorities the north-east corner of British Columbia was set aside as a reserve from which the Dominion when the time was propitious, might select their land.

The selection of this land was the mission entrusted to Mr. Macdonnell.

By a glance at the map it will be seen that the country in question, while geographically a part of B.C., is by its natural boundaries a part of the last west. Stretching beyond the continental divide there is a corner of British Columbia, bounded on the east by the 120th meridian, on the north by the 60th parallel and on the west by the Rocky Mountains, making an angle of prairie country annexed to the mountain province. Across this for 150 miles, between Hudson's Hope and the 120th meridian flows the waters of the Peace, and to the north and south of the noble river the 4,500,000 acres of land have been selected.

It was in the fall of 1904 that the Macdonnell party left civilization at Edmonton, and, travelling by the Slave Lake, made their way to Dunvegan, where they put in the winter and in the spring of 1905 moved up to Fort St. John where they spent almost all summer putting up food for their horses and establishing headquarters camps. In the spring of the present year, after having gathered all the information available, the selection was commenced. Mr. Macdonnell was restricted only by the Laird river on the east and the northern boundary of the province of British Columbia on the north, but he selected all his land in the vicinity of the Peace River and he believes that practically every acre of it will eventually become productive farming land.

After winding up the affairs of the expedition in the city, Mr. Macdonnell will leave for the east to report to the Department of Interior at Ottawa, and on his report, it is expected, the government will take action toward securing the land.

ARGUMENTS FOR FREE ALCOHOL

Many Uses to Which it Could be Put if Price was Lower

In an article of the July issue of Industrial Canada by Prof. Wallace P. Cohen of McMaster University, considerable space is devoted to tax free alcohol, its uses and possibilities. The subject is one of great interest and added impetus has been given to it by the recent withdrawal of the tax on certain classes of alcohol in the United States.

In his article Prof. Cohen calls attention to a clause in the report of the committee on ways and means of the United States congress which said that because of the increase in its use in the manufacture, the advantage to the country would be greater than from the revenue derived from the tax on the spirit. Other objection there was none. There are but few of the industries in which denatured alcohol cannot be used instead of the pure spirit. This denaturing is done by mixing with the spirit some foreign substance difficult of removal, which gives it a taste and small rendering it undrinkable. Various substances are used for this purpose, including wood spirit, animal oils, and certain chemicals. This work is done under government supervision.

During the year ending March 31, 1901, Great Britain used approximately 1,987,000 gallons of methylated spirits in various arts and manufactures. Among these manufactures may be mentioned varnishes, lacquers, stains, paints, soap, hat making celluloid, ether, chloroform, iodoforn, fulminates and other explosives, preparation of solid medicinal extracts, and medicines, dissolving dyes and colors, photographic plates, making linoleums and similar goods, filaments for electric lights, in piano and silk, crape and embroidery manufacturing, for blackening and leather dressing, for surgical dressings, in engravings and various branches of the printing trade, preserving and various purposes about hospitals and laboratories, and in the Woolwich and other war office supply depots.

Broadly speaking the uses of alcohol may be classified in three divisions. First there are those operations in which alcohol is used as a solvent or medium; second, those uses where alcohol is used as an anti-agent or raw material from which other products are made. In such cases the alcohol itself is destroyed and a new substance produced. A third class of uses depends upon the fact that alcohol may be used for purposes of heat, light, and power.

It would be impossible to go into the details of the first two of these uses without taking up more space than could be spared, but the last is one which will appeal directly to the people of the west. Although alcohol has been burned in spirit lamps since very early times the problem of its use as a regular heating agent has never been attacked seriously until quite recently. The abundance of mineral oils has probably been the cause of this lack of attention. Lately, however, conditions have been changing, the price of oil is likely to rise and there is the prospect of its ultimate failure. In America at the present time the oil output is controlled by a trust. The prospect for the future use of alcohol is bright. An abundance of raw material is going to waste every day. Nature has provided the germs of fermentation and the result is that alcohol is produced spontaneously in every garbage pile. Alcohol can be produced cheaply. If as Canadians, we are looking for the raw material from which to make it there might be mentioned the thousands of carloads of wheat screenings which the farmer and elevator man do not know how to dispose of at the present time we have a wealth of raw material, not liable to run out not controlled or capable of being easily controlled by any one class. There is no physical reason why we should not have alcohol in abundance.

Light—Although pure alcohol burns with only a feeble flame, yet special lamps have been designed for its use. In these the flame heats up a mantle which becomes incandescent. Experiments have been made which show that one gallon of alcohol is equal to two gallons of Kerosene for lighting purposes. It is quite safe to predict in the future a large use of alcohol for lighting purposes.

Power—The problem is one which is becoming more difficult every year. Alcohol may be used in engines of the explosive type, like gasoline. In the past the abundance of this latter substance has made it unnecessary to resort to any other in view of the great extension of the uses of gasoline in the past few years, and the consequent increase in price, the use of alcohol as a substitute is looked upon as a matter of immediate interest. It is stated that a gallon of alcohol will produce 10 per cent more power than a gallon of gasoline. Alcohol has been used in agricultural engines in Germany years. Its success there has led to the expectation that a few years will see its common use in motor.

THE TELEGRAM LAMENTS

The Winnipeg Telegram is incensed because "Lowery's Claim" has been denied the use of the mails, proclaiming that the paper "was never obscene or of a violent tendency" and contends that the action of the Post Office Department is a persecution of the proprietor for his opposition to the government.

That a mistake was made in excluding Lowery's paper from the mails there can be no doubt, the mistake being that it was not done long ago. There is a limit to the privileges of the individual and that limit is reached when the individual tries to make the mail service of the country a sewage system for his literary filth. That the "Claim" was "never obscene or of violent tendency," is an opinion quite in accord with the journalistic ideal and habits of the Telegram. If as the Telegram asserts the "Claim" opposed the Federal government then the government may be charged with a lack of political foresight in freeing its opponents from an unenviable companionship.

THE SYSTEMS MUST BE EXTENDED

The enforcement of the by-law regarding water and sewer services will require the continued extension of these systems as rapidly as possible throughout the residential portions of the city. The purpose of the by-law is to secure protection against epidemics and this protection can be secured only in proportion to the extension of the systems. To neglect supplying services in thickly settled districts would not only continue to imperil those districts but to menace the entire city. The protection will be secured only when the systems are complete.

Enforced installation when installation is possible only in certain portions of the city is likely to be interpreted in some quarters as a penalty imposed on residents of streets traversed by mains—a penalty escaped by residents of other districts. Such view is by no means a fair one but it is certain to be entertained and can be removed only by a continued effort to make services available throughout the entire city and the provisions of the by-law applicable to every resident.

It is unfortunate but unavoidable that the most densely settled residential section of the city can be only partially supplied with sewer services at present. This district lies east of First street and north of Jasper. Along First street the main runs only a few blocks north from Jasper and on Queens, Fraser, Namayo and Kinsington avenues the mains run only to Clarke or Sutherland streets. Beyond this the drainage is north and the mains can be extended, only when the trunk sewer along Rat Creek is ready to receive the sewage. Practically therefore the whole thickly populated district east of First street and north of the C.N.R. must remain without sewer service until the trunk sewer is completed to intersect the north end of the streets traversing this section of the city. This cannot be completed during the present season but should be far enough advanced that early next summer the mains along the avenues can be extended and the services installed throughout this district.

A SATISFACTORY SETTLEMENT

The settlement between the city council and the Federal Government regarding the portion of the penitentiary reserve formerly ceded to the city should be satisfactory to both parties. The city secures the privilege of extending Jasper avenue along the river bank and of completing the trunk sewer project while the Government secures the remainder of the land in question for the enlargement of the present reserve. Both the extension of the city and the development of the penitentiary may thus proceed with the least possible friction. The arrangement probably sidetracks permanently the proposal of Alderman Manson to purchase the reserve for factory sites and secure a more remote location for the penitentiary.

WORK FOR A SUBWAY

There is no particular difference between a street which is "closed" and a street closed on the level by six railway tracks. This fact should dominate the city council in the negotiations with Superintendent Jamieson regarding the C. P. R. crossings on Athabasca, Peace and McKenzie avenues. If the C. P. R. is allowed to cross these avenues on the level with six parallel tracks, the avenues may be theoretically open, but they will be practically closed.

The question which really confronts the aldermen is not whether the avenue shall be theoretically open or closed but whether they shall be actually closed or open. This is the question which should be squarely faced and kept free from any obscuring notion that a street crossed by six tracks on the level may be kept an "open" street by refusing to close it. If the tracks are laid the avenue will be actually closed whether they may be called closed or open, and if they are closed in reality, they might in the interests of public safety better be closed in name also.

It is not desirable that the C. P. R. be prevented developing satisfactory terminal facilities in the city, but neither is it desirable that in so doing they be permitted to close off several important avenues. The easiest solution of the problem is the one proposed by the Bulletin for freeing the avenues south of Jasper from level crossings—to carry the road in a continuous subway from the bridge. There is no good reason why this plan should not be extended across Jasper, and the yards be established also on the lower level. Such arrangement would permanently free both the traffic of the company and the traffic of the city from interference, would maintain the level of the streets and thus permit service extensions and schemes for street improvement and ornamentation to be carried out without interruption. Nor need the expense be so formidable as might at first appear. The company will require a considerable length of subway in any bridge, and the earth from the cutting might be used in constructing embankments for approaches thus effecting a saving in trestle work. The time to push for this satisfactory solution of the problem is the present.

or vehicles and motor boats especially. In Germany where alcohol is cheap and where the sale of oil is not so free as here, the consumption for the purposes named above is surprising, as may be judged by the following figures which show the consumption in the year year to September 30th, 1903.

Proof Gallons
For domestic use (mainly light and heat) about.....33,900,000
For motor and other engines.....1,100,000
For industrial purposes.....14,000,000

Total.....49,000,000

The above will serve to indicate the uses of alcohol. No attempt has been made at inclusive treatment but it is hoped that from the examples given an idea, at least, of the magnitude of the subject will be obtained.

That the advantage of the withdrawal of the tax is fully appreciated by the people of the United States is fully demonstrated by an article in a recent issue of the Indiana Farmer, in which the many advantages to the farmers are pointed out. It says that under the new order of things in making alcohol free, the soil may be relied on in the course of a few years to provide for the diminishing quantities of coal, kerosene and gasoline, and to supply an annual product for light, heat and power.

Here are some features in which alcohol is far superior to any other liquid fuel for motors. Its combustion is so complete that it makes what the expert would term a perfect fuel for the engine actuated by internal combustion; and by its use the danger of clogging or choking is practically averted. As already intimated, it is odorless in the sense that it gives off no offensive smell while burning. It is a clean spirit, and can be handled and transported with much more facility than any other fuel.

The industries in European countries where alcohol is permitted to be manufactured without taxation, indicate that the variety of its uses is almost without limit. It forms the base of high grade varnishes, since it is the best known solvent of shellac. Plaster of Paris, household furniture, and vehicles, when coated with varnishes of this kind have a finish and luster which cannot be obtained in any other way, while the compound acts also as a wood preservative. In chemistry it is indispensable. In the manufacture of dyes enormous quantities are used. The German dye, as the great chemical companies of the Empire make these substances for less than ten cents a pound. In the United States the industry is significant in proportion, as the producing cost per pound is over 50 cents.

For Family Colds

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the home ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear. It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning. It is safer, too. Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.

A dealer writes: "Shiloh's Consumption Cure is without doubt the best remedy for Coughs and Colds on the market. Once tried, my customers will buy no other."—L. Elder, Nampa, Idaho. If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. If it does not cure, you get back all it cost you. We take all the chances. Neither you nor your dealer can lose. Isn't that fair? 25c. is the price. All dealers in medicine sell.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Dope Sheet Wrong

Calgary Defeats the Caps on Their Own Grounds With Howard in the Box

The dope sheet figured out all wrong yesterday. Howard was backed to pitch Kinnear out of the lot and Edmonton was supposed to be the thing that came their way. But the cowpunchers got a two-bagger, transportation for one, fielders choice and a stolen base, a single and an error at second, and then another single all in the first end of the first innings on which they scored three runs.

The game was not hopelessly even then had it not been that Howard's pitching was very poor and Kinnear's was exceptionally good. Of course it was a slugging saturnalia right to the close of the episode, Donovan and Gleason each getting two two-baggers, while Howard did not appear to be interested in the game until the eighth innings; then the rain and wind came and the balance was a matter of luck. Toward the close Donnelly's umpiring would have earned him the death penalty in any less law-abiding community, but Edmonton seems to treat the hold-up man kindly and Donnelly was allowed to leave the grounds with his body and soul apparently in the same package. A kinship of the performance would have answered to the following description:

First Innings—Donovan hit for two; Westberg walked; Rochon got first on a fielders choice, forcing Westberg out at second. Moyné flew to second. Rochon stole second. Ford hit a single with Adams failed to handle. Donovan and Rochon scoring and Ford reaching third. Reeves hit and Ford scored. McInnis fanned. Three runs.

Gleason fanned; Adams second to first. Sullivan walked and stole second, getting third on Ford's wild second to first advancing Donovan. Second Innings: Watson fanned; Kinnear second to first; Donovan fanned.

Third Innings: Donovan hit double, throw. Hodge flew to pitcher retiring Ford gained first on fielders choice, and Westberg to third and second. Westberg walked. Moyné went down side.

White, Setley and Dobson out on infield hits. Howard trying to cut Donovan off at the plate but failed, Donovan scoring. Reeves flew to third, who doubled to first, catching Ford. Score one.

Deaton pitched to third; Howard fly to second; Gleason two base hit, Adams fanned.

Fourth Innings: McInnis fly to center, Watson to second, Kinnear second to first.

Sullivan hit a home run, scoring first for Edmonton. Hodge pitcher to first. White second to first. Setley fanned.

Fifth Innings: Donovan flew to right and Westberg to first. Rochon walked, Moyné hit and Ford retired the side on infield hit.

Dobson fanned, and Deaton and Howard went down on infield hits.

Sixth Innings: Reeves fanned, McInnis pitcher to first, Watson walked; Kinnear fanned.

Gleason hit for two; Adams fanned Sullivan and Hodge failed to reach first, Gleason dying on third.

Seventh Innings: Donovan hit; Westberg flew to Howard; Rochon got first on error by Gleason, Moyné struck out and Donovan and Rochon both stole. Ford flew to short. No runs.

White hit for three and Setley brought him in on sacrifice. Dobson and Deaton fanned.

Eighth Innings: Reeves hit double; Moyné sacrificed advancing Reeves to third; Watson got first on error by Westberg; Rochon scored. Score three.

Ninth Innings: Rochon, second to first; Moyné fly to short and Ford to Adams and Reeves scored. Kinnear second.

Ten Innings: Deaton hit, got second on a past ball. Deaton went out short to first and Dobson finished game by being caught trying to reach home.

BRADSTREETS ON AMERICAN WHEAT

Figures that Prices will go Lower unless New Market Feature Presents Itself.

Bradstreets, the greatest authority on trade in the United States and Canada, publish the following relative to the wheat market.

Good crop reports and the prospect of unprecedented supplies for domestic use and export have been the moving cause of a further weakening of wheat prices, on which a new low record for the present crop has been made, and the lowest price for wheat in four years has been reached at New York and Chicago. Cash No. 2 red wheat sold at New York this week at 77-8 cents, which was a decimal of two cents from the low point touched just before the issuance of the last government monthly crop report and comparing with 96-1-3 cents, the highest touched on January 15th of this year. In 1935 the high price of cash wheat was $1.25, reached in February and the low was 85-1-8 cents, touched in September. It is no surprise to learn that the low prices offered for the new crop have discouraged the farmers who are indisposed to follow the market downward and who are generally conceded to be in a position to hold their crop unless the price suits them. In the meanwhile the large crop indicated here and in Canada renders foreign buyers rather indifferent to the very low stage of their own supplies, and the result is something like a deadlock in the market, though it must be said that the high quality of this year's crop has induced some buyers which tends to prevent the market from stagnating. Some new feature which will get the market out of its rut is needed but at present it does not manifest itself. Whether this will come in the shape of new crop or political developments in Russia, our chief competitor at present, or whether new buying will come from European recognition of its short supplies on hand, does not appear at the moment. It might be worth while, in the view of the Government report indicating a crop of nearly 50,000,000 bushels larger than a month ago, to recast the table of probable supplies and consumption published in these columns some five weeks ago, which is accordingly done herewith:

season of 1934-35
Supply
Farmers' stocks, July 1, 1935 46,052,000
Bradstreet's visible (U.S. only) July 1, 1935 29,536,000
Total visible and invisible 75,588,000
New crop, 1935 770,000,000
Total supply 845,588,000
Distribution
Domestic consumption (5 bushels for 84,662,000 people) 423,310,000
Seed for 49,000,000 acres (1-1-2 bushels per acre) 73,500,000
Reserves visible and invisible, July 1, 1935 100,000,000
Total 596,810,000

Available for export 248,778,000
In place of the 722,755,000 bushels indicated by the July 1 figures there is now offered a crop of 770,000,000 bushels, and the consumption per capita figure has been raised from four and two-thirds to five bushels with all allowances, therefore there is offered a total supply of 845,588,000 bushels, which after allowing for consumption and seed and finally for reserves—25,000,000 bushels larger at the end than at the beginning of the year—still leaves an available supply for export of 248,778,000 bushels, or a quantity 139,000,000 bushels larger than was exported in the fiscal year 1934-35 and 14,000,000 bushels larger than the record export year 1931-32. As to this latter year it might be stated that anything like the immense movement for export manifested in July and August, 1931, has so far been conspicuously lacking. In the six weeks of the present fiscal year the shipments from this country and Canada (Bradstreet's weekly figures) have only been about 12,000,000 bushels, whereas in the same period of 1931 the exports were 41,546,936 bushels, or more than three times this year's total. There is certainly nothing here to indicate any larger outflow of American wheat to Europe or to show that 1931-32 records of total exports will be equalled, let alone exceeded, while it is interesting to note that present prices are not far above those ruling in the summer of 1931.

At the time mentioned a great overseas shortage appeared certain. Today we have only rumors of such a shortage but nothing as yet tangible to go upon, and certainly nothing like the scramble for American wheat visible at that time. In the absence of any such demand as was then witnessed and with the new spring wheat crop about to come upon the market, the prospect as to prices at present is certainly not comforting to farmers, and there are certainly some of them who will be obliged to part with their wheat to meet pressing necessities, indicating the probability of low prices for some time to come.

Lacrosse Team Threatens to Invade the Kootenay and Coast on Crusade of Advertising

Aug. 31—A specially convened meeting took place last night, in the fire hall, of Strathcona Lacrosse club and supporters, presided over by President J. W. Blain.

The meeting was called to consider the practicability of the club taking a trip to the Pacific coast and States, and to arrange matches with the different towns visited.

After considerable discussion, it was ultimately decided to appoint Messrs. E. McMillan and G. W. Blain as a committee, and to write the C. P. R. regarding travelling rates and also arrange matches.

If at all possible games will be played at Cranbrook, Nelson, Kamloops, Victoria, and Seattle.

The Strathcona club, have had an exceptionally successful season, and should this proposed tour of the club be fully realized, it will, without doubt be not only beneficial to the club but will be regarded as one of the best advertisements that Strathcona ever had at the Pacific Coast, and especially will this be the case when the Strathcona boys play at Seattle.

Downs Forfeits

The Quartette of Alberta Men Kert Him Busy for an Hour at Cost of $100

Jack Downs, failed to throw the four men in an hour, or in fact to throw three of them. Downs, however, claims that a "ringer" was played on him in "Young Berg" who admitted that he came from the coast, where he is well known, as the best man of his weight. The bouts, however, proved very interesting, were clean out, fast and strictly on the square. The crowd was large and enthusiastic and wrestling as a sport received an impetus which should produce some interesting bouts.

The preliminary between O'Reilly, a husky young Dutchman from Toronto and Fisher of Strathcona was a fairly good exhibition. O'Reilly had too much weight and was very heavy.

Then came the event of the evening—McClintchy, Berg, Watson and Blatchford in an hour.

ing, when Downs attempted to throw Pat McClintchy of Strathcona does not pretend to be a wrestler but he has the weight and strength to burn and he kept Downs very busy for 12-31 minutes when he bit the dust on

THE LARGEST SAW MILL IN THE PROVINCE

Walters Mill Will Cut 14,000,000 Feet of Lumber This Season.—New Mill to be Erected on the North Bank of the River.

There are many ways of getting an idea of the growth of the Edmonton district; but the most reliable evidence is the ceaseless activity of the manufacturers established in our midst. Business is good with all our manufacturers and no person is better able to attest this fact, than John Walters, whose lumber mill is situated in Strathcona on the bank of the Saskatchewan River. During the entire season this mill has run night and day, and so great is the demand for lumber that the mill yard is empty, and the C.N.R. cannot supply cars enough to fill the shipping orders of the firm.

The mill was established about eleven years ago by Mr. Walters on his own homestead and has steadily grown until the daily output is over 120,000 board feet.

Last year a new lath mill was put in which cuts 40,000 lath per day.

The principal manufacture of the mill consists of lumber which is dressed into all kinds of dimension material, siding, sheathing, ceiling and flooring.

The equipment for cutting the logs consists of two circular saws and a gang. The logs are brought up to the circular saws by two steam carriages. Underneath each carriage is a cylinder 36 feet long fitted with a piston which operates the carriage by means of a lever in the hands of the Sawyer, who might also be called an engineer. The logs are squared by the circulars and then put through the gang which when run up to its capacity will cut 30 boards at a time.

The slabs are cut into lath-lengths, loaded on trucks and run over to the lath machine. What cannot be used in this way is sawn into stove wood.

A huge burner fitted up with an elevator burns up all waste material and keeps the yard clean and tidy.

During the season of 1906 the output of the mill will amount to 14,000,000 board feet of lumber, which requires a gang working steadily of 175 men.

The supply of logs comes from limits on the upper Saskatchewan. Last winter Mr. Walters had five camps in operation employing 300 men. Gangs of men are employed during the entire period the river is open driving the logs down the river. 50,000 logs are on the way to the mill at present. The cut consists mostly of spruce with some poplar. The firm owns a steamer which operates on the river in connection with their business.

Although the mill is already the largest in Alberta or even between Winnipeg and British Columbia, Mr. Walters has decided to erect a new mill on the Edmonton side of the river below the exhibition park which is one of the best sites obtainable for a sawmill. He finds it necessary to expand to meet the increasing demands for building material. The greater part of the lumber is consumed in Edmonton and a ferry which Mr. Walters has put on the Saskatchewan is busy transporting his ties and timbers.

Boat building is one of the secondary industries of the firm and several river steamers and large numbers of freight scows have been constructed in the yards.

Last spring M. Walters sunk a shaft 90 feet in his property south of the mill and succeeded in locating a seam of coal five feet thick. He has constructed a ship and hoist and has raised a considerable quantity of coal this season.

Mr. Walters is one of the oldest settlers in this district having come here 40 years ago. He is a native of the Orkney Islands and possesses in an eminent degree that keen business instinct which is characteristic of so many Scotchmen.

The One Right Steel Plate Range

Until we found out just the right way to use asbestos to keep the heat in a cooking range where it must cook the food instead of cooking the cook,—every steel-plate range kept the kitchen broiling-hot. This range is a cool range—the top shield and lining is thick asbestos, so the heat stays inside the range and keeps even evenly hot. Food is better cooked, quicker cooked and cooked for less fuel-cost.

CANADIAN FLOUR IN JAPAN

Trade Agent Macdonell Tells Millers that they must be able to Supply
Large Amounts and Steady
Shipments

It continues to be a matter of surprise to many people in Canada that Canadian flour does not figure more largely in the Japanese market. This surprise finds expression in public speeches, in newspaper references to the matter and in not a few other ways. There is, according to the report of the Canadian commercial agent, Mr. Alexander Macdonell, of Yokohama, no prejudice against Canadian flour, and certainly no discrimination operating. Without a single exception Mr. Macdonell has found a ready expression of desire by both Japanese and foreign dealers to take into consideration all that could be said, and all the quotations that could be given them with a view of placing Canadian flour in a favorable light before them. The business aspect of the case is what appeals to them, and they have a keen appreciation of trade, without preference or prejudice as to the source whence it offers. In the first place, it may be said of Canadian flour, as of other productions and of merchandise and manufactures generally, that there is no direct agency representing it, whereas for the flour of Canada's competitors there are direct agencies, besides the impetus of momentum of long time and widely established trade connections. But that is not all, nor the chief drawback. Those already mentioned as being superior at the moment of the flour of Canada, with Japan will doubtless be further surprised to learn that Canada is not yet in a position to appear as a formidable competitor to that country's flour supply.

The total export of flour at Vancouver for 1905 amounted in value to $76,483, of which $38,000 went to Japan. This is the total export via the Pacific. The conclusion must be that it represents the present flour available for export from Canadian territory tributary to the Pacific.

"That is the amount in value of flour apparently available for one year, for exportation to Japan, and must be at least approximately correct," says Mr. Macdonell. "If I am mistaken in that amount, then I would answer that if it were ten times that amount, it would be yet insufficient to give Canadian flour a strong commercial standing in the Japanese market."

"I have had correspondence indicative of impatience, and I have not been blind to current comment and report in the Canadian press, expressive of impatience, at the slow pace with which this basis of a leading article was taken hold of in this market. This critical attitude is consequent upon the failure to realize, first, the peculiar conditions of the market, and second, the measure of the present capacity of the Canadian farmer-west as a source of supply."

"I will not occupy time and space with illustration; but I must state one case as an example. A commission merchant from the Canadian west arrived here in February last, and spent over three months in 'sizing up' the oriental market. About two months of that time was given to Japan. When he arrived here he was primed to over-stand why this market did not appreciate Canadian trade. He investigated, I think, quite thoroughly, with the result of very much changing his preconceived views. He found that flour importers, for example, could not be interested unless he was prepared to offer a great deal more than he could venture to undertake; that importers of standing would scarcely concern themselves with proposals that did not mean barrels by the thousand; and more serious still, that contracts upon this basis would involve the obligation of continuous supply when ordered. He surrendered unreservedly to advice which, upon his arrival here he had rejected. He returned to Canada relying rather upon the future promise of Alberta wheat, than upon the present sufficiency of Canada's western supply for business in the orient. This, I think, is putting his impressions in moderate form."

pose I place at the eastern boundary of flour from this source have been too much of the casual job lot or surplus that some miller may have had over after local demand had been supplied. These casual quantities are commonly put into the hands of a commission merchant who often finds that they are not taken and he cannot understand why.

"There are reasons why, some of which may be stated; the brand may not be known; or it may be that the brand, if known, and the flour represented by it, do not correspond. Again, both brand and flour may be satisfactory, but the quantity too small to be interesting. Should all these objections be absent, there yet remains the radical difficulty, that the importer will not go to the trouble and expense of making a market for an article, the supply of which, in such quantities as he may require, he cannot be assured of in a business way. Of course, these remarks apply in no sense to the source of supply eastward from the Alberta line. Manitoba milling firms have quantity and quality for any market; but the price by the time it gets out here may be regarded as prohibitory. To take it to Japan would be to take it away from the grip of the eastern market, where it is in demand; against transportation facilities, to compete in this market with Washington and Oregon flour that is grown and milled in the Pacific coast. It is not reasonable to expect results unless of an exceptional kind under these circumstances."

"What impresses the observer and the inquirer at first sight is that Canadian manufacturers are not here either in view or in prospectus. There is nothing to suggest the name of Canada, perhaps I should not say nothing, since being refreshed a day or two ago by the sight of two dry loads of Emmer, B.C. flour, so heavy that the attached horse power was unable to take them up the grade to a little Japanese bakery, where from personal knowledge I can say bread is made of a uniform excellence quite up to the Canadian standard."

"This flour will be evidence of the samples and sample orders mentioned in my review of 'Canadian Flour in Japan,' as showing ability to compete if supply could be assured. However, I have repeated that there is nothing to suggest the name of Canada either in the warehouse and shops, or in the advertising columns of newspapers. The scenic beauties of hill-side and plain along the route of travel are blent with the names of the brands of Scotch whiskey, various foods for infants, etc., and many other foreign and domestic specialties, but of this blending there is no done, possibly because of aesthetic scruples, on Canadian account."

"These remarks will apply to practically all lines of Canadian manufacture and production. I have stated often in these reports, in substance, that with a few exceptions, everything that Canada grows and makes is represented here in the course of everyday trade, but not of Canadian production. The inference is that Canada does not feel the need of looking to the far east for a market, because her present markets home and foreign, are absorbing her output. That there are some exceptional examples in the form of correspondence with this office, of a desire to learn the conditions in the Japanese market and to take the advantage offered, if any, shows that there is a somewhat lively interest felt and operating, which augurs well; but that interest has not yet taken much of a tangible trade form."

FAST MAIL SERVICE

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—The "Overseas Mail," the new train which will run periodically carrying mails between Great Britain and the Orient, left Quebec at an early hour this morning. The train pulled out on the arrival of the Empress of Ireland. The only points in the west at which the mail will stop are Winnipeg, Brandon, Broadway, Moose Jaw, Swift Current, Medicine Hat, Calgary, Laggan, Revelstoke, Kamloops, North Bend, and Vancouver. Passengers or intervening points will require to leave the train at the nearest stopping place east of the required destination and then proceed by the regular train. The new train service, of which the train now on the road is the pioneer, will run every four weeks. Its main object is to carry mails at rapid rates from Quebec to Vancouver, thus forming an important link in the fast mail service between Liverpool and Hong Kong. From Quebec to Winnipeg the time is stated as two days, which will bring the first train here some time Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The train will stop here for a few minutes. The next train for the west will pass through here on September 30th according to present calculations. The train will consist of baggage and mail cars. Local passengers will be carried to the extent of the capacity, but preference will be given to through and overland passengers. Mr. Geo Ham will be in charge of the first fast mail.

City of Edmonton

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the following By-Law is being enforced:

BY-LAW No. 274.

A By-Law respecting the installation of water and sewerage services. Whereas a system of waterworks and sewerage has been established in a municipality system throughout a large portion of the town of Edmonton and it is in the interests of the public health of the residents of the municipality that all dwelling houses and other places used in whole or in part as dwelling places and situated along the line of the water mains and sewers should be served thereby respectively.

Therefore, the Municipal Council of the Town of Edmonton, duly assembled, enacts as follows: 1. Every owner of a dwelling house or other place used in whole or in part as a dwelling place situated along the line of any existing water main in this municipality shall before the 1st day of June, 1906, cause such dwelling house or other place to be supplied with water from such main by means of a water service in accordance with the provisions of By-Law No. 243 of the Town of Edmonton, entitled "A By-Law respecting the management and regulation of the Edmonton waterworks and to establish a tariff of water rates."

2. Every owner of a dwelling house or other place used in whole or in part as a dwelling place situated along the line of any existing common sewer in this municipality shall before the 1st day of June, 1906, cause such dwelling house or other place to be supplied with water from such main by means of a water service in accordance with the provisions of By-Law No. 244 of the Town of Edmonton, entitled "A By-Law respecting the construction of houses sewer connections."

3. In the case of any extension of the now existing water mains in this municipality, the owner of every dwelling house or other place used in whole or in part as a dwelling place shall six months after any such extension has been laid down along the portion of the street upon which the parcel of land upon which such dwelling house, or other place stands, abuts, cause such dwelling house or other place to be supplied with water from such main by means of a water service in accordance with the provisions of the said By-Law 244.

4. In the case of any extension of any now existing common sewer in this municipality, the owner of every dwelling house or other place used in whole or in part as a dwelling place shall within six months after any such extension has been laid down along the portion of the street upon which the parcel of land upon which such dwelling house, or other place stands, abuts, cause such dwelling house or other place to be connected with such common sewer in accordance with the provisions of the said By-Law No. 244.

5. In case any owner of land shall fail to comply with the provision of this By-Law the City Engineer is hereby authorized to give any such owner notice in writing to comply therewith and in default of such owner commencing the work necessary to comply therewith within one week and bona fide continuing such work in completion, the Engineer is hereby authorized to do the work necessary for that purpose at the expense of the City and upon the work being completed the cost thereof shall be assessed against the land upon which the work is done in pursuance of Section 7 of this XXIII. of the Edmonton Charter as amended by Section 35 of Chapter 76 of the Provincial Statutes of 1906.

POPULAR PREACHER HERE TOMORROW

Rev. J. A. MacDonald, editor of the Toronto Globe returned to the city on Thursday and will preach tomorrow morning and evening in the First Presbyterian church. The subject of the evening discourse will be "The place the church should occupy in the building of a nation." Mr. MacDonald together with the distinguished writer, Ralph Connor, were classmates of Rev. D. G. McQueen at Knox College, Toronto, about twenty years ago. Mr. MacDonald was for many years in the Presbyterian ministry in Ontario and is rightly considered one of the foremost preachers in the province. Several years since Mr. MacDonald retired from the active work of the ministry to become editor of the Globe on the resignation of Mr. J. S. Willison. In journalism Mr. MacDonald has won a place not less distinguished than as a preacher. Accompanied by Mrs. MacDonald he is returning from a trip to California.

DOWN'S FORFEITS (Continued from Page Five)

a double Nelson. It was a contest of science against brawn and science had to win.

On Berg's introduction to the crowd Downs protested against his entry but soon that disapproving crowd he would take him on. For fast, scientific work, this was the event of the evening. Young Berg, though lacking weight, showed speed and was dead game all the way through. Time after time he extricated himself from dangerous places by beautiful bridge and twists. He however succumbed to a bar and hammer lock, when he either had to lose the fall or have his arm broken. He stayed 17.49 min., making the total time 30.10 min.

Then came Watty Watson, of Calgary, an old side partner of Downs. Watson played a waiting game and he had strength and enough skill to keep his shoulders off the mat for 30 minutes. It was a battle against time and not of the cleanest cut variety, but Watson is a game sport and he has the strength. Blatchford did not figure in the contest at all.

Before they left the ringside, Downs agreed to throw Watson three times in an hour, on Monday night. Young Berg and Kenny Blatchford will also wrestle for two falls out of three. It was plainly seen on Friday night that Downs and Watson, the friends once are such no more, and there is no love lost between them. This should prove a very interesting bout. Both men are fast and determined to win. The contest will take place in the Thistle rink.
